The Bank's business strategy is enhanced by appropriate internal policies and procedures.

For the aforementioned period, the Bank is planning to achieve a stable and rapid growth, which will be mainly expressed by the credit portfolio increase. The Bank is aware of risks associated with the rapid growth and mitigates them by the surplus regulatory capital and the policies, procedures and limits.

The risk strategy is acknowledged by all levels of the Bank's relevant structural units and in addition to the business strategy, it is included in the Bank's risk management policy. It is important that the Bank's risk strategy is implemented by the Bank's Directorate and the relevant bodies responsible for risks, and the process is supervised by the Supervisory Board.

Risk Management Framework

- Risk owners

Risk management in the Bank is implemented at different levels. Each risk management process involves a relevant responsible body. The list and responsibilities of the structural units which participate in the risk management process at micro level are provided in Structure and Organization of Risk Management chapter. It is significant that each risk category is managed at various levels in the Bank. The first level includes the structural units that are owners of a particular risk, the Committee reviews large-scale and significant risks, which are eventually transferred to the Directorate and Supervisory Board, which manage risks at macro level.

- Risk Classification

JSC "Ziraat Bank Georgia" classifies risks according to two main categories, namely, financial and non-financial risks; the description of each risk is provided below:

- Financial Risk

Financial risks are caused by the change of the structure, volume and quality of assets and liabilities and are mainly the risks arising from the Bank's activities during the process of implementing the Bank's strategic plan. The Bank considers this risk as an important determinant of the financial performance/results. Financial risks are divided into two main directions:

- Market risk: liquidity, interest rate, foreign currency and price fluctuation risks; each category includes several subcategories, and according to the size and complexity of the Bank, fully covers the market risk, which may affect its activities.

- Credit risk is defined as a default risk and is reviewed in two aspects: a borrower's credit risk - which may arise due to a borrower's insolvency; and a counterparty's credit risk - which may occur due to the failure of a counterparty to pay its liabilities to the Bank.

- Non-financial risk

Non-financial risks are those qualitative risks that make it impossible to determine the volume of financial loss caused by thereof. The Bank constantly controls the risk and the risk management process is in line with both the requirements of the National Bank of Georgia and international practice, also, it is noteworthy that the management process of the aforementioned risk is in compliance with the size and complexity of the Bank's operations. The most important category within non-financial risks is an operational risk, the management process of which includes identification, monitoring and management of internal processes, human factor, information technologies and legal and regulatory risks. In addition to the above, the Bank also recognizes and manages reputational, strategic and external risks.

• Risk management process

- Credit Risk

Credit risk is the most material risk for the bank, which is reflected in the loss incurred by the counterparty. Credit risk may arise for the bank by issuing loans as a result of treasury investment activities etc. The bank has sufficient capital to cover possible losses caused by this risk and, at the same time, not to damage its own operations and image.

Currently, the main sources of credit risk for the bank are:

- Balance loan portfolio
- Off-Balance sheet elements - Guarantees

Despite the recent rapid growth, the bank maintains conservative approaches in lending, which is reflected in:

- the work of the credit committee, which individually assesses the solvency of the borrower and approves loans and guarantees where the consent of the full majority of members is required.
- the standards of conservative domestic credit products
- limiting the financing of high-risk sectors and products
- Using high quality mitigation elements such as real estate and guarantees of financial institutions with a high reputation

The bank's loan portfolio is characterized by a high degree of security where the share of real estate is dominant; The loan security is properly registered and assessed in accordance with the standards of the National Bank.

In terms of credit loss estimates, the bank has introduced IFRS 9 Financial Assets' expected credit loss accounting model with appropriate policies and methodologies.

When assessing credit risks according to IFRS 9, special attention is paid to the analysis of Forward Looking information. In particular, the analysis of expected credit losses includes an analysis of macroeconomic and financial factors, expected trends and risks, which significantly improves the credit risk assessment process.

- Concentration Risk

Concentration risk refers to the risk of creating large concentrations when a single event (failure to perform a single contractor’s obligation or difficulties in one sector) can cause significant volume losses.

The risk of concentration is calculated in two directions, the first is the nominal concentration with the help of HHI (Herfindal-Hirschman index), and the second is the sectoral concentration, which is considered according to the methodology established by the National Bank of Georgia.

- ✓ Credit risk associated with counterparty

Currently Ziraat Bank Georgia has no contracts, swaps and forwards related to foreign currency or interest rate, accordingly, the tools available for the Bank do not include credit risk of counterparties, as stipulated in the capital adequacy and reporting requirements.

- ✓ Currency Induced Credit Risk (CICR)

At the general level of credit risk, there may be additional pressure on loans where the borrower is fully or partially non-hedged in terms of the exchange rate. When a loan is issued in one currency and the borrower’s income is formed in another currency, this may create additional pressure on the borrower that would not otherwise occur.

The bank identifies and classifies the credit risk caused by the change in the exchange rate in accordance with the identification and classification of risk positions approved by the National Bank of Georgia, JSC Ziraat Bank Georgia. Accordingly, such risk positions are identified and their impact on capital.

During the analysis of the loan, the bank tries to analyze and not issue loans that will further increase the level of credit risk. For this purpose, it offers customers loans in both local and foreign currency.

- Interest rate risk

The interest rate risk is based on the possible losses incurred as a result of the revaluation of the assets and liabilities sensitive to the interest rate.

The Bank uses asset and liability revaluation gap analysis to monitor interest rate risk. The bank regularly conducts a sensitivity analysis of interest rates in scope of stress testing when instantaneous rate fluctuations are taken into account. The effect of both net interest income and revaluation effect on capital is analyzed.

Also, the bank does not have trade securities and does not engage in speculative activities, therefore, as a result of the change in interest rates, investment securities will not be revalued and the effect will be minimal.

- Currency risk

Currency risk refers to the probability of receiving a possible loss as a result of a revaluation of the bank's assets and liabilities as a result of a change in the exchange rate.

Currency risk can reduce supervisory capital ratios because the bank's capital is represented in local currency and a large portion of its assets are denominated in foreign currency. In this case, the depreciation of the local currency will lead to a significant deterioration in capital adequacy, as the value of assets presented in foreign currency will increase (due to the depreciation of the lari) and therefore the bank will have more risky assets, while the amount of capital denominated in lari will remain unchanged. The bank's regular stress tests take into account the sharp depreciation of currencies and calculate the stress ratios.

The bank holds the appropriate amount of capital to avoid problems with possible losses due to this risk, in addition, the bank controls the daily open currency position and does not speculate by altering the open currency position.

Due to the risk strategy and appetite, the bank's target currency position is closed.

- Liquidity risk

The risk of liquidity is the risk of possible loss due to non-timely full or partial fulfillment of the bank's obligations. Liquidity risk is also considered as holdup in lending by a bank due to insufficient funding, which in turn may lead to reputational and credit risks.

In the event of a liquidity risk, the bank will be forced to raise funds at an accelerated pace, which in turn will result in higher costs for the funds received. This will negatively affect the bank's profitability, as well as its reputation and reliability.

Liquidity risk mitigation is done through the bank's procedures, policies, limits, and day-to-day management, which are consistent with the bank's risk appetite, risk strategy, and business strategy. The bank manages the risk of liquidity on a daily basis. For Short-term liquidity risk Liquidity Coverage Ratios (LCR) are monitored on a daily basis in accordance with the requirements of Basel 3. And respectively Net Stable Funding Ratio (NSFR) for long-term liquidity monitoring purposes

- Operational risk

Operational risk is another important risk that Ziraat Bank Georgia considers material. Operational risk is the risk of loss caused by faulty or failed internal processes, human resources and systems, or external factors. This definition includes fraud risk, information technology and information security risks, legal risk, reputation risk, and outsourcing risk.

Operating risk management becomes critical, especially as the size of the bank increases and the range of operations expands.

Operating risk can be both monetary and non-monetary.

The methodology for its identification, measurement and management is described in the bank's risk management documents.

In terms of operational risk management, the bank resorts to:

- Accounting and reporting of incidents
- Self-assessments of risk and control
- Regular audit of audit information systems and penetration testing
- Assess the risks of outsourced operations
- Business continuity plan and appropriate stress testing

The analysis of the results of the above processes is completed in order to create an idea about the profile of operating risks in the bank in relation to the bank's risk appetite. The analysis results in the mitigation or acceptance of operational risks (if necessary) to be further considered in the Bank's business activities and strategy.

In terms of the operating risk of the bank, the risk positions are calculated using the basic indicator method, which translates into an additional capital buffer. This methodology is described in the Regulation on the Minimum Requirements for the adequacy of capital of commercial banks.

- Country risk

Ziraat Bank Georgia focuses an important part of its operations on Turkish citizens and legal entities incorporated under the jurisdiction of Turkey and/or other legal entities and individuals who are engaged in business activities in the territory and / or the jurisdiction of Turkey. The format of the Bank contains the country risk, since it is a bank established by a Turkish bank in Georgia. Any deterioration of the political situation in Turkey that may affect the economic conditions, tension between the Turkish and Georgian diplomatic relations, increase in customs rates or introduction of quotas may significantly affect the financial status of the Bank's customers, which in turn, may have a negative impact on profitability of the Branch. As the likelihood of the above risk occurrence is insignificant, and the exact or approximate consequences thereof are impossible to measure, Ziraat Bank Georgia, in order to cover any potential loss caused by this risk, will additionally hold capital buffer.

Stress-testing

The bank conducts a stress test at least once a year and analyzes the results obtained according to the Methodical Stress Test Guide developed by the National Bank. The results of the stress test determine the stress test buffer, which is one of the important components of the Pillar 2 framework, which aims to ensure the adequacy of banks' capital, taking into account stress scenarios and macroeconomic risk factors.

Main Scenario and Assumptions: Due to the shock, global economic activity is slowing down. There is a recession in the countries of our region. At the same time, the US dollar is strengthening and interest rates are rising due to the increase in the risk premium.

The effects of stress are calculated both in terms of increased credit risk and in terms of interest rate and profitability risks.

An annual business continuity testing plan has also been developed and is being implemented in accordance with the National Bank's operational risk management regulations.
